

Surveillance And Investigative Techniques

So what is so difficult about surveillance. You pull up in front of the house and sit there reading a newspaper while you are waiting for the Subject to appear. Then you follow him around town and into buildings as he buys thing and meets people. And as all this happens you take pictures. Easy right?

How many times have you watched TV as the hero follows behind the Subject's car? Always finds the parking spot in front of the house? Then points the camera out the window to capture the moment?

That's probably your first intro to to surveillance. And it is all crap.

If you park in front of a house and sit in the car, within 20 minutes you will be burned. Or worse, you will have the cops show up wanting to know what you are doing. Following right behind the Subject's car will become very apparent if the Subject is at all "Surveillance Aware".

This two to three hour presentation covers the tactics to use for a successful surveillance. The tools to have ready and on hand to cover any problems. How to write reports that are easy to read and makes the facts jump out. Ways of proving to the client that you did your job and the amount your charging is justified. We cover each step of the investigation. How skipping steps can leave holes and waste time. We walk through a case from signing the contracts, to editing the video.
